Please check the Income Tax Department section of the City's web site, www.grand-rapids.mi.us/incometax, for progress toward electronic filing. COMPUTER GENERATED RETURN FORM

Grand Rapids accepts computer-generated returns using Form CF-1040 which is different from the standard printed nonresident form, Form GR-1040NR.

WHO MUST FILE A RETURN

Every nonresident individual who received income taxable under the Grand Rapids Income Tax Ordinance greater than the amount of their personal exemption(s) must file a nonresident return by April 30, 2006.

RETURN FORMS CHECK BOX

If you do not need return forms mailed to you next year, mark the box on the upper right-hand side of the return form. Check this box if you use, or the person who prepares your return uses, computer software that prints Grand Rapids income tax forms.

WHO MUST USE THIS NONRESIDENT RETURN FORM

Every nonresident individual whose gross taxable income earned in Grand Rapids (see Grand Rapids Street directory on website) was greater than the amount of their personal exemption(s) is required to file a return. If you do not meet the requirements for filing but Grand Rapids tax was withheld or estimated tax was paid, you must file a return to receive a refund.

Every estate or trust with gross income subject to tax greater than $750 must file a nonresident return, Form GR-1040NR, with Schedule G attached. Schedule G is available on the website or from the Income Tax Department.

An individual who was a resident of Grand Rapids during any part of the year must file Form GR-1040R (resident form).

MARRIED PERSONS - JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS

Married persons may file either a joint return or separate returns. If a joint return is filed, both names and social security numbers must be listed, all Grand Rapids taxable income of both husband and wife must be included and the return must be signed by both individuals. A joint return may be filed when only one spouse has Grand Rapids income.

TAX EXEMPT INCOME

Tax exempt income includes:

- Gifts, inheritances and bequests.
- Social security, pensions and annuities (including disability pensions) and Individual Retirement Account distributions received after reaching age 59½.

- Worker's compensation, or similar payments for death, injury or illness arising in the course of an employee's job.
- Interest, dividends and other forms of intangible income. (EXCEPTION: interest and other intangible income as part of a business. Such interest, etc. shall be considered as business income taxable to nonresidents and reported on Schedule C.)

ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENTS FOR YEAR 2006

Estimated tax payments are REQUIRED if 2006 Grand Rapids income not subject to withholding is more than $15,400 after exemptions ($100 in tax). A Declaration of Estimated Income Tax (Form GR-1040ES) MUST be filed by April 30, 2006 and one-fourth (¼) of the estimated tax due for 2006 must be paid with the declaration. The three remaining estimated tax payments are due at the end of June, September and January.

Failure to make required estimated tax payments or underpayment of estimated tax will result in assessment of penalty and interest.

If at any time during the year your income increases to such a level that one hundred dollars or more of tax will be due, a Declaration of Estimated Tax must be filed at that time.

The Declaration of Estimated Tax (Form GR-1040ES) is available from the Grand Rapids Income Tax Department or on the City's website.

EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE

The due date of an annual return may be extended for a period not to exceed six months. The tentative tax must be paid by April 30, 2006 for an extension to be valid. Applications for extensions are available from the Grand Rapids Income Tax Department. Filing an extension with payment is no substitute for making estimated tax payments.

Applying for a federal extension does not satisfy the requirement for filing a city extension. Application for a Grand Rapids extension must still be made and any tentative tax due must be paid (Ord. Sec. 64).

DOCUMENTATION REQUIREMENTS

Copies of all federal schedules and other requested documentation supporting income, losses and deductions must be attached to your return.

Failure to attach schedules and documentation or attaching incomplete schedules and documentation will delay the processing of the return and may result in deductions being disallowed.

AMENDED RETURNS

Amended returns should be filed on the applicable resident or nonresident form and clearly marked AMENDED in the top margin. All supporting schedules should accompany filing with an explanation for each change. Tax paid or refunds received from the original return should be noted to the left of the box on line 16d. Tax paid should be added and refunds received should be subtracted from the other payments with the total entered on line 16d.

If a change on your federal return affects your Grand Rapids taxable income, you must file an amended Grand Rapids return within 90 days of the change. Include payment of any tax and interest due.

Child support is not deductible. These amounts are subject to adjustment before they may be deducted on this return. Attach a copy of page 1 of your federal return. The alimony adjustment is computed as follows:
